Phil,

You may already be familiar with these two professors from the University of Montana as both have done work for EPA, and Dr. Duffield conducted an economic assessment of Bristol Bay for Trout Unlimited in 2006. Whether you are familiar with their work or not, I thought you would be interested in knowing about the upcoming webinar on natural resource valuation. The context of the discussion is the proposed hydropower project on the Susitna River, but the issue is equally applicable to the Bristol Bay assessment (and to Chuitna as well).

I will also send you the background articles Jan distributed.

Thanks,

Matt
